

Welcome to the "GLUMAC" tennis school

Before you decide to enroll your child who is a beginner or has already trained in tennis, read the following text carefully

When choosing any tennis school or coach, it is very important that you know who you entrust your child to and what that school offers you. First of all you should answer the following hand questions and if you don't agree with our answers, you are definitely in the wrong place. After more than 30 years of experience working with children and adults, we want to help EVERYONE who is new to tennis, as well as children and parents who have had unpleasant experiences in other clubs.

For what do you want your child to train tennis?

- ✓ I want to give my child the opportunity to get to know more sports, and I really like tennis and I think that he was interested to try!
- ✗ I want my child to become a professional tennis player
- ✗ I see potential in my child based on which I could do and to the money. I invest my money so that it will return to me one day.
- ✗ I like tennis and I'm not interested. She likes some other sport

What did you do? child wants to practice tennis?

- ✓ Whatever the reason is, it is completely irrelevant. Whatever attracted him is fine.

Do you think your child needs to be talented at tennis to coach him or something else?

- ✓ It is ABSOLUTELY irrelevant whether the child is talented at tennis or not. In case he likes to learn and comes to trainings DO NOT deny him that (this is related to any sport).

Can tennis be practiced in addition to other sports?

- ✓ Of course, children can practice several sports at the same time

What are they for you? requirements of a tennis coach?

- ✓ Individual approach to each child
- ✓ Absolutely absolute femininity to the work he does
- ✓ Experience working with all ages of children
- ✓ License to work with children + ITA License (proof of passed licenses)
- ✓ That in addition to his coaching skills, he also inspires confidence
- ✓ To have authority based on knowledge, virtues, morals and the complete set of personality because with that leaves a positive impact on children.
- ✓ The attitude towards even the smallest children is the same as towards the future to a man

Is a good coach for you a great former or current competitor or coach?

✓ Compete the magical abilities of the trainer have nothing to do with the inability to transfer knowledge. Except tennis competitive skills, all the qualities we have already mentioned are very important

Did you choose a tennis school or coach because of:

1) Good marketing?

Don't forget that good marketing is only the first step in a series of steps that should make you choose a tennis school or coach.

2) My child was delighted to bring a flyer from school and at the promotion it was told how everyone will become Nole and champions?

Important information

On this school promotes love for this sport, acquiring the skill of playing tennis through a large number of repetitions of correct movements (muscle memory), where the main goal is RECREATIONAL sports for life and the acquisition of healthy and useful habits.

We develop a competitive spirit through the program of EDUCATION FOR CHILDREN AND PARENTS related to competitive tennis, respect for oneself and opponents and setting goals.

Likewise, through our program, children get the opportunity to study abroad through scholarships. Have you thought that your child will have a "handicraft" tomorrow. A love of this sport can happen in the future he wants to become a tennis coach if he wants to. That's why working properly with children and choosing a quality coach is IMPORTANT. Today, some of our students are coaches or have graduated from university through tennis.

3) Close to tennis courts, because it's easier for you because of your organization?

Think carefully about whether proximity to the field is the key important for your decision where your child will train tennis.

4) Not whose recommendation?

This is one of the good ways you can find a good tennis school

From what age can a child start training?

✓ A child can start training from the age of 3 or 4, if communication with the trainer is established. U otherwise, it is too early to enroll your child. We have examples of children who, from the age of 3, through our special program for beginners - Toddy Tennis, are progressing very well.

OUR TENNIS SCHOOL:

NOT A GAMING ROOM!!!! In the ear I think that your child just plays in training and "thrashes" with the racket (regardless by age), my advice is not to waste money, but to take the child to the playroom to play with other children.

THERE ARE NO COACHES WHO ARE ONLY ANIMATORS. In the ear I think the coaches have a great relationship with the kids, and while the lessons do NOT work on the mentioned tennis skills, my advice is again to enroll your child in the playroom. Our approach is based on the progressive acquisition of basic tennis skills and knowledge through play and animation.

Our program:

- Dynamic work program
- Quick learning technique
- Development of motor skills
- Game and fun in the group
- Learning with the help of the latest props

Benefits of the program:

- Proper growth and development
- Useful habits
- Knowledge and skills
- Good work skills
- Socializing, fun and a healthy lifestyle

In case your child is a competitor and you want to train in our club:

✓ EVERY CHILD, regardless of the level of competition of tennis, technique of hitting, tactical knowledge as well and physical and mental current state, can train with us to improve all of the above.

✓ EVERY CHILD is welcome and would be given the chance to try to improve all of the above. ✗ PARENTS of CHILDREN who think they know better than the coach should not bring their children to our club

✗ PARENTS who scream and mistreat their children, because they did not fulfill their Frwaiting in tournaments, sparring or training SHOULD NOT bring a child to our club, UNLESS they decide to leave the child to the coach to do his job.

✗ PARENTS WITH UNREALISTIC AMBITIONS

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS:

Why is my child making slower progress than other children?

Each child is an individual for himself with certain abilities that are born (hereditary) or acquired over time. Just like in school, learning is easier for some, harder for others, but in the end, most of them reach their goal - finished primary, secondary ... school. It's just a matter of commitment. In the case of sports, especially individual sports like tennis, progress depends on many factors. In a group of children who are worked with in the same way, with the same exercises (motor, technical...), some progress faster than other children. At the same time, we are not talking about coaches who are exclusively dedicated to children who are better (which is wrong). The good news is that eventually everyone masters the technique and learns to play and enjoy tennis. This process can take years, but nothing is terrible if the child loves tennis and is in the hands of the right coach.

IMPORTANT Do not make WRONG conclusions about your child's progress if:

- the child trains in a "worse" group in your opinion. That's why groups are also a division according to levels of knowledge, and it is wrong to think that a child will progress faster if he plays only with the better ones.
- the child comes to training for a long time and cannot hit the ball with the racket and cannot judge the bounce of the ball...
The child is at that level RIGHT NOW and with a good coach and proper motivation, progress is SURE
- the child lost in a tournament to someone who you think is worse than him, which means he is not for this sport. COMPLETELY WRONG!!! The coach should talk and analyze the child's game, behavior...Mutual trust is essential

Is a larger group of children a brake on a child's progress?

In case you have a good coach, as well as a good training organization, the number of children is not a problem. Do not let the price of the tennis school, private lessons and the number of children in the group be the main parameter of your decision regarding the tennis school and coach from all of the above.

The difference between individual and group lessons?

Children should combine group and private lessons if they are able.

Is it right to enroll children in tennis just to get them out of the "street and games"?

ABSOLUTELY! Children need activities to distract them, and sports are one of the better ways.

In the ear I think your child is already training somewhere, can you answer the following questions:

- ✓ Do you know what education your child's coach has and what licenses he/she holds to do the job?
- ✓ Did you get a video recording of the kicking technique, with instructions from the coach regarding correction?
- ✓ Does your child tell you what was done at training?
- ✓ Is there a training plan?
- ✓ Do your child's strokes and movements resemble the strokes and movements of the tennis players you watch on TV?
- ✓ Is the training reduced to throwing balls out of the basket without specific instructions with constant praise of "well done"?
- ✓ Is the trainer active or does he spend most of the training on his mobile phone?
- ✓ Has your child given up training or is about to give up, and do you know why?
- ✓ Can your child, after a few years of training, pass the ball 5 times on mini tennis without making a mistake?
- ✓ Is it enough for your child to like the coach to train tennis?

Explanations of all of the above, as well as additional questions, are at your disposal!

✓ Frequently asked questions about paying for tennis school in full or in installments:

Can I not pay the installment if my child does not come for a month or more?

- First of all, paying for tennis school in installments is a relief for parents. When you pay in installments, the price of the school does not increase compared to paying in full (many parents pay the full amount)
- The price of the tennis school at the seasonal level is formed in accordance with all the circumstances, including:
 - a) child's absence from training
 - the child is sick
 - the child goes to birthday parties and other celebrations
 - the child goes on excursions with the school
 - the child is not there due to going on vacation or wintering
 - other activities came up during training
 - b) The rental of tennis courts in the tennis club is paid in advance for the entire season regardless of weather conditions and all other circumstances (this amount is paid by our school)
 - C) Tennis coaches are on duty throughout the year (not a single class is missed throughout the year)
 - D) Our school always tries to find an alternative solution in case of bad weather conditions, so that the school additionally pays for appointments in other clubs where the courts are closed (under the hall), which does not increase the price of the tennis school.
 - E) The tennis lesson is held regardless of the number of children present, which means that even one child can be present at the training session, which implies a private lesson. One private lesson with the court during the summer season is €40 class+court, and during the winter season class+court €55.
